RE: Commonwealth v. Pablo Colon: 07 207

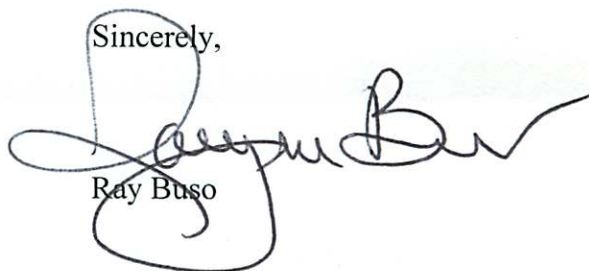

Dear Greg:

I wanted to take a minute to thank you so much for your invaluable service on the recent case of Commonwealth v. Pablo Colon. All your hard work in identifying the firearm, getting the appropriate instruction manuals, viewing and identifying the weapon and then finding a similar weapon and doing a video for me clearly made the case for the defendant much much better and ultimately contributed greatly to obtaining the favorable result he did.

I cannot too highly recommend you to any other person who needs a true firearms expert as compared to the type of expertise, or lack of it involved in many state police examinations.

Please feel free to use me at any time as a reference I can only say wonderful things about you. I hope we have the chance to continue to do other cases in the future. Looking forward to it.

Sincerely,

Ray Buso

To Whom It May Concern:

RE: Greg Danas

In the past thirty years, as both a prosecutor and a criminal defense attorney, I have encountered hundreds of experts in the course of preparation for trial and in the court room in a great variety of fields. During all of the time I cannot say that I have ever had a better experience dealing with any "expert" than I have with recent experience with Greg Danas. I was the third attorney involved in a difficult case in which my client was observed in possession of a large capacity firearm and clip. Given that my client had previously been convicted of a firearms of violent offenses he was looking at a fifteen year minimum mandatory sentence so the preparation of the matter for trial was significant.

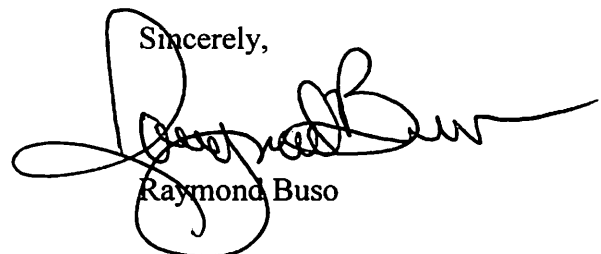

From the time I first spoke to Greg until my client accepted an extremely favorable plea, Greg was there every minute to help prepare and educate me so that I could better represent my client. Not only did he make repeated trips to inspect the weapon involved, he went above and beyond by finding a copy of a fairly arcane manual for the weapon and even located a similar weapon so that he could familiarize himself with its construction and provide me with a video that should how complicated the weapon was.

Greg's absolute professionalism and dedication to his profession is obvious in everything that he does and made my job so much easier. As a result of Greg's work and the way that he was able to help me prepare the case my client began the trial but mid-trial was offered such an extremely favorable deal that he could not turn down. I attribute a great portion of that offer to Greg's professionalism and expertise and unending support of my client and myself

I highly recommend Greg Danas to anyone who needs a firearms expert and will personally forever use him anytime I need a true firearms expert

Please feel free to call me at any time regarding his qualifications or professionalism.

Sincerely,
